

Newhaven Fort

On the 21st of September we went on a school trip to Newhaven fort to explore and find out interesting facts about World War Two. There were 3 tables set out presenting WW2 artefacts, old recipes from the time and newspapers. It was amazing to actually handle real life artifacts from that time period - we even got to hold an unexploded bomb! A lady showed us a presentation about World War Two that was very informative. We also experienced what it would have been like in the Anderson Shelter- it felt like bombs were actually dropping on us! It would have been terrifying! We walked around and read about real life experiences of families who had lost loved ones- this was very sad. We would highly recommend going to Newhaven Fort to learn about World War Two.
