Young Climate warriors
April 2020

This term, whilst you are at home staying safe, we have linked up with a scheme called Young Climate Warriors.

Young Climate Warriors is about empowering and engaging children to respond to the climate change agenda. The weekly Young Climate Warriors Challenges are simple and age appropriate. The challenges are designed to be informative as well as fun! It is a platform for children to carry on conversations begun in class at home. All 'suggested challenges' must be undertaken with the supervision and at the discretion of a responsible adult. We would love every member of the Cottesmore Community to become a young climate warrior!

You can find the tasks on our Eco page as well as more information on the official website:

If you complete the challenges, I would love to see how you get on. Please send your pictures and messages to:
